The calculation of the prices, payouts or losses related to Transactions at the time the Transaction is opened and closed will be based on our estimate of actual market prices and the expected level of interest rates, implied volatilities and other market conditions during the life of the Transaction. These values are based on complex arithmetic calculations as determined by us in our sole discretion. These calculations include a spread in favor of us, which means that the values involved may differ substantially from prices available on primary markets where similar transactions are conducted.

We do not support physical delivery of currency (or any other securities) in the settlement of any Transactions. Any gains or losses you experience as a result of a Transaction will be deposit to or withdrawn from your Account after your Transaction has been completed.

You acknowledge and agree that in the event that any Transaction is completed at prices that do not reflect actual market prices due to any reason, including an undetected programming error or glitch or any other reason which results in a mispricing, we reserve the right to cancel or roll-back such Transactions.

One of our services is a copy trading service. Copy trading is a trading functionality which allows you to copy the account of other traders. You do this by copying a specific trader account. By placing a copy order, you authorise us to automatically recreate this account for you in your account without any prior consultation, consent or approval.

Any explanation or information which you get as part of a copy trade, or about the performance of the copy trade is not intended to be, and should not be considered as advice. This information is provided solely for informational purposes.

In making a decision to copy a specific trader or traders, strategy and/or portfolio, you should consider your financial situation, including your financial commitments. You should understand that copy trading is highly speculative and that you could sustain significant losses.

When you place a copy trade, we will charge you fees on the same basis as those charged to the copied account for the same trades.

The provider of the copied account will get the profit from those users who copy his account. This profit is considered to be a bonus (please see the 'Promotions and bonuses' section).

This profit is calculated as a Performance Fee in accordance with the following formula: Performance Fee = Subscription's raw profit * Fee %.

In the alternative, we may send you an invoice for the set-off amount and you shall pay such invoice no later than two (2) business days after the invoice date.

If, for any reason (including as a result of losses arising from Transactions), you are under an obligation to pay any amount to us which exceeds the funds in your Account, we may send you an invoice for such amount and you shall pay such invoice no later than two (2) business days after the invoice date.

If we determine or form a reasonable belief that you have been using the Service in breach of this Agreement (including in breach of the Use Restrictions), we may, in our sole discretion, terminate the Grant and withhold all funds that have accrued to your Account including funds that you have deposited and any profits, bonuses or other amounts accrued as a result of Transactions.

Promotions and bonuses

The Company has the right to offer various promotions and bonuses to the new clients as well as the existing clients.

The possibility to take part in promotions and to obtain a bonus is a privilege for the Client, and the Company may deny their provision to the Client at any time at its sole discretion.

The conditions for promotions and bonuses are specified in the given section as well as on the Company's website.

In some cases the Company has the right to provide the bonuses to its clients on the conditions which are agreed with the clients individually. The company can provide exclusive bonuses for certain VIP-clients from time to time.

Bonuses are only transferred to a client's account after the client has provided all the necessary identification documents.

Types of bonuses:

a) Deposit bonus.

The given bonus is provided by the Company to the clients when the Client deposits his/her account. The amount of the bonus is defined by the Company as a percentage of the amount of the money which the Client deposits.

The given bonus presupposes the following volume of trade by the client.

The volume of trade by each 1000$ bonus must reach:

When receiving a bonus up to $ 10,000, the amount of trade must reach $ 10,000,000 per every 1000 $ of the received bonus means;

When getting a bonus from $ 10,000 to $ 30,000 — the amount of trade must reach

$ 20,000,000 for every $ 1000 of bonus money received;

When receiving a bonus over $ 30,000 — the amount of trade must reach $ 30,000,000 per every 1000 $ of the received bonus means.

In case the Client has two or more accounts with the Company, the volume of trade for the bonus must be reached for each account in accordance with the amount of the bonus transferred to the given account. The withdrawal of the bonus and profit from the trade is not permitted from all the accounts until the volume of trade condition will not be fulfilled for all the trading accounts.

When working out the bonus, the volume of transactions opened in different directions, scalping transactions, and also transactions that last three or fewer minutes is not taken into account. In case there is no trading activity on the account during any period longer than three months from the moment the bonus is deposited and till the moment the volume of trade must be reached, the company has the right to debit the bonus money as well as the whole income on the account of the client for the given period without any notice or agreement with the client.

In case there are any suspicions of the fraud with the purpose to reach the necessary volume of trade or use of the bonus, the trading account of the client can be adjusted.

The withdrawal of the bonus and the income from trading activities is not allowed until the volume of trade is reached. When the volume of trade is reached, the whole balance of the account together with the bonuses, deposits and income can be withdrawn without any limitations. There are no time limits for reaching the volume of trade for the bonus.

In case the Client withdraws the money from the account before he/she fulfills the conditions on the volume of trade for the bonus, all the opened positions on the Client's account are closed and the money left on the account of the client is cleared in accordance with the following formula:

Account balance = current account balance – the amount of the bonus/es provided – total income obtained by the client since the time the bonus was activated for all closed positioned which were opened after the bonus had been activated (positive total income only).

b) Advance bonus.
